THE CHANCE.

She Must Act at Once to Secure the Aid of the Good Offices of the United States.

ALL NEGOTIATIONS ABOUT CLOSED

Secretary Hay's Last Cable to Li Hung Chang One Which Almost Declares War With China.

No Further Instructions From the War Department Have Been Sent, but the Chinese are Free to Act.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The reply of Secretary Hay to Li Hung Chang has closed the negotiations with China, unless the old viceroy is able to secure the full acceptance of our terms relative to the foreign ministers, and that at once. No order is looking to a relaxation of the preparations for the advance on Peking have gone out from Washington, for, as the situation is described by one of the leading officials here, "there will be no bargaining on our part in advance of the conference, and the new authorities of full and free communication with the foreign ministers." There is, however, a note ominously close to action, and Secretary Hay's declaration that the conduct of the Chinese government is "unfriendly." That kind of language is extremely diplomatic and is only a narrow step between it and formal war.

The impression prevails here that the Chinese government, if it is not absolutely bereft of power to act in defense of the Boxers, will accept our terms, and some such action is looked for very soon. Possibly a battle—no more, it is believed, than one—will be required to bring the imperial government to the point of acceptance, though in that case it is questionable whether the original conditions would be regarded as still open to acceptance. If the Chinese government accepts, however, the United States government will be face to face with one of the most delicate and momentous diplomatic tasks ever undertaken. It must attempt to redeem its promise to use its good offices in favor of China, and in the present temper of some of the European powers the greatest difficulty may be expected to arise in the prosecution of the attempt. It is the confident expectation of the officials here, however, that if the Chinese government actually and in good faith meets all of the four conditions laid down by the president in his reply to the Chinese emperor's appeal for aid, that at least a majority of the powers now represented in China will accept that a proper base upon which to cease present hostilities and open negotiations for a settlement. The decision of the majority in such case, without doubt, would resolve the interminable of the minority, else an interminable entanglement might arise.

Secretary Root said there had been no developments which would justify any changes in the instructions to Gen. Chaffee or which would change the intentions of the government in the least. A cipher cable message sent to Gen. Chaffee by Secretary Root which contained additional information and facts which have developed since the last message, and which he said to Nagasaki. The message contained no additional instructions, but merely information which he may use as a guide to his action.

It is not believed at the war department that an advance has been made as yet from Tien-Tsin. It is explained that the latest cable indicated a great deal of delay in unloading the transports, and before any advance can be made the troops must have all their equipment and transportation for them. The indications are that the plans being matured at Tientsin contemplate a rapid advance when the movement begins, for it seems to be understood that there will be carried with the army a sufficient quantity of supplies to maintain the troops on the march to Peking and return, if a return should be advisable.

ATE TOASTDOOL.

Three Persons Are Dead and Four Others Are Seriously Ill as a Result.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Three persons are dead in the home of J. A. Norris, near Harvey, Ill., and four others are seriously ill, the result of eating toastdools which they had taken from the rooms. The dead are Mrs. Edith Norris, Maud Norris and Thomas Norris. The others poisoned are J. A. Norris, Mrs. Norris, Edith Norris and Robert Smith.

Thomas Norris, 13 years old, undoubtedly saved those yet alive. Half dead and suffering with pain that almost crazed him, he rode bareback to Homewood, three miles, and fell exhausted as he reached the house of a physician. He died soon after. The doctor reached the Norris home in time to save four lives.

Using Buns in Dallas, Tex.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 3.—There was an explosion under the main bridge of the Dallas Consolidated Electric Street Railway Co. on South Harvard street as one of its cars passed. The union motorman who had been a strike for six weeks, repudiate the act.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Details of the Effort to Shoot the Shah of Persia Told by an Eye-Witness.

Paris, Aug. 3.—An eye-witness of the attempt to assassinate the Shah of Persia, Muzaffer-Ed-Din gives the following account of the affair: When the gate of the palace opened the first carriage to appear contained the Shah. He sat at the right-hand side of the carriage, with his doctor at his side. Opposite was the grand vizier and at his side Gen. Parent, the personal aide of the Shah. They were on their way to the Pont Alexander III, where they were to take the boat

No Word Has Been Sent Back by the Internationalists, and Their Fate or Whereabouts is at Present Unknown.

London, Aug. 3.—No word comes regarding the fortunes of the comparatively small body of troops believed to be forging their way toward Peking. The silence is probably due to diligent censorship rather than to any lack of developments. The Shah did not appear to be excited by the attempt on his life, and when the man was taken away he quietly spoke in Persian to the grand vizier. He said to the coachman "Drive on," and the carriage proceeded by the Alexander III bridge, where a boat was taken for Severs.

An officer tried to stop him, but he shouted, "To my assistance, friends." He then quitted them and submitted. When the knife was found on his person an officer remarked: "You also had a knife," to which the Shah replied, "Yes, I took some precaution." "Why did you attempt to assassinate the Shah?" the officer asked. "Because," was the reply, "it pleased me. That does not concern you." To all other questions the prisoner remained dumb.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION. Democrats Carry the State by a Majority of About 30,000—The Negro Disfranchised.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 3.—After one of the most bitterly contested campaigns ever known in the old North Carolina state, democrats and white supremacy triumphed by a majority of about 30,000. The election disfranchised the Negro and changed the state legislature from its combination majority of republicans and populists to straight democrats, insuring the defeat of Marion Butler for reelection as United States senator.

The election, unexpectedly, passed off without any trouble, excepting at the little town and village where there, which started in a drug store wherein were kept the registration books, destroyed the apothecary's shop, and the being attacked by the democrats to those opposed to white rule. Bloodhounds were called out, but failed to find any trace of the alleged incendiary.

The election was for state officers, members of the legislature and county officers and for an amendment to the state constitution looking to a practical elimination of the Negro from politics, as its adoption disfranchises the bulk of the Negro vote.
